These fully Stainless-Steel Pre-Rinses are designed for applications that require something "Ease of Use" & yet "Tough" & more "Robust" than most other ones on the market. There is over 65 years history behind our brand and are suitable for the all types of Internal & External Environments in a hardworking Kitchen or Laboratory.

The Full Stainless range is ideally suitable for R.O. (Reverse Osmosis water) applications as the material does not fail unlike brass units.

The units are made from 304 S/S and use EPDM rubber on the Inlet Hoses for the Dual Taps & the actual Inner Tube of the Pre-Rinse Hose, with the rubber seats made from NBR rubber. All suitable for RO water.
