Global Tapware has been aware of the increase of single lever mixer Pre-Rinse on the market in recent years. They may look stylish, but they do not stack up as being suitable for genuine commercial heavy use.

We have also been aware of the problems these types of Pre-Rinse have, such as leaking joints and burst hoses. These problems appear only after a short period of use. We call these taps for what they are – a Domestic tap dressed up.

That is why we designed a better hose which we have had tested in a restaurant for the 2 years before we released ours. This range of replacement hoses is to help you resolve the problem of burst hoses mainly from kinking at the Spray Gun end.

But for best overall costs benefits we suggest using a genuine Commercial Rated Pre-Rinse such as our ever reliable 'Global Fisher' or 'Global Rinse-Mate' brands. These are used by the major restaurants chains & business who cannot afford to have down times from unnecessary breakdowns.

Rather than re-installing the same type of hose which will have the same problem we offer a hose that is beefed-up. It is still a S/S braided hose with PVC coating, but we added a secret component to help the hose avoid kinking where it joins onto the gun.
